

EYOTO™ GROUP PRIVACY NOTICE

Last updated: 20 February 2023

This privacy notice (notice) explains how we, the EYOTO™ group, comprised of the entities listed in the schedule at the end of this notice (we, us, our) process your personal data if you access or use our website, online content or features, use our devices, software or services or otherwise engage with us online or offline.

This notice applies across all our regions. However, individuals in the United Kingdom (UK) should also read the "For UK Individuals" section.

If you have any question about your data protection rights or if you do not understand anything explained in this notice, please contact us by email to support@eyoto.com.

1. WHO DOES THIS PRIVACY NOTICE APPLY TO?

This notice applies to:

- users of our website, online content and features;
- our customers and their personnel who use our devices, software or services (e.g., a medical practitioner, technician, customer staff);
- our suppliers and business partners;
- job applicants; and
- anyone else who interacts with us, if you call, email or visit us or otherwise engage with us online or offline.

If you are a patient of a medical practitioner who is our customer and you receive a medical assessment involving the use of our device, software or service, please note that any patient personal data we receive is processed on behalf of our customer, who is the entity with control over your personal data. If you wish to exercise your data rights in relation to your patient personal data, please contact your relevant medical practitioner or let us know and we will forward on your query.

2. WHAT TYPES OF PERSONAL DATA DO WE PROCESS?

"Personal data" or "personal information" means any information that identifies you or relates to you.

Depending on your use of our services or other interaction with us, this may include the details of your enquiry, contact information, engagement information, your profile, service usage and other information. For more information, please see the "categories of personal data" section below.

However, the exact definition of what constitutes personal data in your specific circumstances will vary depending on the relevant laws which apply to you and the relevant Eyoto entity.

3. DATA ACCURACY

We will trust that your personal data is accurate, complete and up to date. We ask that you keep us informed of any changes where possible.

4. HOW IS YOUR PERSONAL DATA COLLECTED?

We collect your personal data as follows:

- From you, when you send us an email, complete the contact form on our website, when you deal with our sales representatives, when you visit our offices or otherwise deal with us.

- From your user interactions with our website, online content, feature or communication or our device, software or service, for example, when you open our email, navigate our website, use our device features, access our software, engage us to provide our services or otherwise interact with us and our services.
- From the public domain, such as information on social media, the internet, official companies register or other public records.
- From third parties, such as recruitment agencies, your referees, your employer, social media platforms and other third parties.

If you provide information about others, please ensure you have their consent to do so or let us know if you do not.

5. WHY DO WE PROCESS YOUR PERSONAL DATA?

This section explains what personal data is necessary for each purpose. We keep our processes and data collection under review and will update this notice should any personal data no longer be necessary for the given purpose.

The "lawful basis" column explains how we comply with a technical legal justification for data processing under UK data protection laws. Please contact us if you have any questions.

6. WHO IS YOUR PERSONAL DATA DISCLOSED TO?

We may share your personal data with the following third parties:

- Our service providers, business partners and advisors as required for the proper administration of our organisation and the purposes stated above (including for example, online advertising) or in the context of providing our services.
- Our auditors, legal advisors and similar parties bound by professional secrecy.
- Our customers who use our device, software or service to provide medical treatment to you.
- The public if you interact with us on social media or as required by law.
- Recruitment agent, your former employer or other person providing a reference about you.

- HMRC, the Police, medical standards authority and other authorities as strictly required by law or best practice.
- Third party where ordered by the court or necessary in establishing, exercising or defending legal claims.
- Another organisation in case of a merger, acquisition or collaboration.
- Other third parties where you have provided consent.

7. HOW DO WE SECURE YOUR PERSONAL DATA?

We have put in place appropriate organisational and technical measures to safeguard your personal data that we keep on premise and on our systems.

We seek to ensure our third-party service providers do the same. We only appoint service providers under an appropriate contract who provide sufficient guarantees about data security in accordance with applicable law.

No system is completely secure and we cannot fully guarantee the security of your personal data. We will deal with any personal data breach in accordance with our incident response procedure and will notify you and the regulator where we are legally required to do so.

Our staff undergo training on confidentiality and access to your personal data is restricted on a "need to know" basis.

8. HOW LONG IS YOUR DATA KEPT?

We will retain your personal data for as long as it is necessary for the purposes set out above or longer, as may be required by law, for legal claims or otherwise. By way of example, the following retention periods may apply.

Details of your enquiry	2 years from collection
Business opportunity information	6 years from collection
Job applications	One year from collection
Patient data	Erased without delay upon transmission to customer
Profile data	3 years from collection

After the retention period, your personal data will either be securely deleted or anonymised, and it may be used for analytical purposes.

9. WHERE WE STORE YOUR PERSONAL DATA

Generally, your personal data will be held in the UK or US, depending on your location. However, your personal data may be transferred between our group companies and their service providers who are involved in providing our services to you.

In these cases, we will satisfy ourselves that your data protection rights are adequately protected by appropriate technical, organisational and contractual safeguards in accordance with the relevant data protection laws before any such transfer.

10. OPT-OUT

If you would like us to stop sending you marketing communications and to process your personal data for direct marketing purposes, please contact us.

You can request to stop receiving our marketing communications at any time by clicking on the unsubscribe link at the bottom of each marketing message and we will add you to a suppression list or otherwise arrange that you no longer receive marketing communications.

11. YOUR RIGHTS

Depending on your rights and our obligations under applicable data protection law, you may contact us to:

- Request disclosure of your personal data held by us.
- Request correction of any inaccurate or incomplete personal data held by us.
- Withdraw consent previously provided to us in respect of your personal data.
- Request deletion of your personal data held by us.
- Request not to sell or share your personal data with third parties, particularly in the context of behavioural advertising.
- Exercise other data rights which we are bound to comply with.

Please email or call us if you wish to exercise your data rights.

12. THIRD PARTIES MAY PROCESS YOUR PERSONAL DATA

Our website, content and features may involve the use of third party services, social media platforms such as Twitter and Instagram, or other third party services.

We may also share your personal data with third parties, such as payment services providers, public authorities and others who process your personal data for their own purposes.

You should check the privacy statements of these third parties and we are not responsible for how they may process your personal data. Please note some of them may use your personal data for business administration, product development or advertising purposes.

14. UPDATES TO THIS NOTICE

If we make any changes to our notice, you will be able to see them on this page, as indicated by the "Last updated" date at the top.

If any such changes significantly affect you, we will ask for your prior consent where we are required to do so by law.

15. FOR UK INDIVIDUALS

A. CONTROLLER

EYOTO Limited will process your personal data as "controller" for the purposes and under the legal grounds of processing set out above.

However, as noted above, if you are a patient of a medical practitioner who is our customer, and you receive a medical assessment involving the use of our device, software or service, please note that we act as "processor" in relation to your patient personal data processed on behalf of our customer who acts as "controller" in relation to such data. If you wish to exercise your data rights in relation to your patient personal data, please contact your relevant medical practitioner or let us know and we will forward on your query.

B. PERSONAL DATA

"Personal data" means any information relating to an identified or identifiable natural person ("data subject"); an identifiable natural person is one who can be identified, directly or indirectly, in particular by reference to an identifier such as a name, an identification number, location data, an online identifier or to one or more factors specific to the physical, physiological, genetic, mental, economic, cultural or social identity of that natural person.

C. YOUR RIGHTS

Subject to certain exemptions, limitations and appropriate proof of identity, each data subject has the following rights in relation to his or her personal data:

- Right to information about matters set out in this notice. You may also contact us for further details about our data retention policy, international data transfers and other matters that are unclear.
- Right to make an access request to receive a copy of your personal data held by us.
- Right to rectification of any inaccurate or incomplete personal data.
- Right to withdraw consent previously provided.
- Right to object to our processing of personal data based on our legitimate interests.
- Right to erasure of personal data that is no longer needed.

- Restriction on the processing of personal data.
- Right to human intervention in respect of any automated decision-making without human involvement that significantly affected you.
- Right to data portability from one service provider to another, where applicable.
- Right to lodge a complaint with the Information Commissioner's Office.

All requests will be processed without undue delay and no later than within one month. If we cannot process your request within this period, we shall explain why and process it as soon as possible thereafter.
